

Bringing Sales Strategies to Philanthropists & Nonprofits

At HireEducation, we understand the unique challenges nonprofits and philanthropic organizations face in building a sales strategy that aligns with their mission.

Our tailored solutions help organizations grow their impact by developing effective sales approaches and connecting with mission-aligned talent. Here's how we can help:

Strategy Sessions

HireEducation offers customized 2-3 hour strategy sessions, providing insights from across the education sector and expert partners. We tailor the agenda, group size, delivery platform, and format to suit your organization's unique needs, ensuring you receive actionable strategies.

Partner Referrals

Leverage our network of partners who specialize in training non-sales leaders to sell into educational institutions. After assessing your specific needs, we refer you to the most suitable programs or tools to address your key challenges.

Fractional Placements

HireEducation can connect your organization with a fractional sales leader experienced in mission-driven strategies. This is an ideal solution for nonprofits looking to build a sales strategy and upskill partnership directors without committing to a long-term hire.

Permanent Placement

Partner with us to identify a dedicated sales leader who can bring their expertise to your organization. We ensure that their skills align with your philanthropic mission and they can customize their approach to fit your specific structure and value offering.

Unlock Your Organization's Full Potential

At HireEducation, we understand that a strong sales strategy and top talent are key to advancing your mission.

Partnering with us gives you access to industry expertise, strategic insights, and a network of professionals who understand the unique challenges of philanthropy. Whether refining your approach or scaling efforts, we're here to help you navigate nonprofit sales with precision and care.

Connect with us to see how a tailored partnership can drive your organization's growth and impact.